HOKKAIDO UNIVERSITY

Title	Authors
Citation	Journal of the Faculty of Humanities and Human Sciences, 16
Issue Date	2021-03
Doc URL	http://hdl.handle.net/2115/80876
Type	bulletin (other)
File Information	06_Authors.pdf

Instructions for use

Hokkaido University Collection of Scholarly and Academic Papers : HUSCAP

Authors

Masanao SAIKI, Ph.D., is a research specialist at Faculty of Humanities and Human Sciences, Hokkaido University, Japan.
His research concerns the historical study of Hanzi glyphs standards. He received his PhD degree from Hokkaido University in 2011.
(Masanao.Saiki@mb9.seikyou.ne.jp)

Shoju IKEDA, M.A., is a Specially Appointed Professor of Japanese Linguistics, Faculty of Humanities and Human Sciences, Hokkaido University, Japan. He is a vice-president of the Society for Research in Kunten Language. He has been conducting on linguistic studies of early dictionaries in Japan.
(https://hdic.jp/)
(shikeda@let.hokudai.ac.jp)

LI Naiqi, Ph.D., Associate Professor, Zhejiang University.
She specializes on Chinese Buddhist dictionaries, Pre-modern Japanese dictionaries and Manuscript copies of Buddhist Scriptures.
(linennki0527@yahoo.co.jp)