Challenges for Globalization at Hokkaido University

"Globalization" of Universities is a sort of "eternal challenge," but in last 2~3 years in particular there has been much discussion about and many projects for globalization at Hokkaido University.

The "Basic Philosophies and Long Term Goals" of Hokkaido University include "Global Perspectives," and the medium-term plans and goals of the University seek "to improve the international currency of the education and increase the international mobility of students." However, it is necessary to devise and implement a variety of research and development projects to accomplish these goals.

Here we introduce a variety of discussions and efforts for "globalization" at Hokkaido University during the last two years, and we hope this will help in the formation of campus-wide common understanding.

ここでは，最近２年間の北海道大学の「国際化」に向けたさまざまな取組と議論を紹介し，学内の共通の理解の形成に役立つことを願っています。
